7 Specification

This section describes the scope for this assignment including the purpose, deliverables, requirements and the timeline.

7.1 Background

The focus of Result Area 1 of MyJustice is to increase capacity within communities/people to use and apply knowledge and understanding about their rights so that they can claim those rights. MyJustice research (Myanmar Justice Survey, 2017) shows that people view their relationship with the state as being passive, where they are subject to the authority of the state, rather than having a more empowered role where they can hold the government to account or exercise rights as citizens¹. The nationally representative survey shows that people have a generally good understanding of principles of justice but have little faith in the formal justice system. They consider the justice system to be biased, costly and inaccessible. The study clearly shows that people generally know what the law contains but see the law as an instrument of control rather than one that enables individuals to claim their rights. The findings also show that people prioritise community cohesion over individual rights claims.

In order for the justice system to become truly responsive to people's needs several factors need to interact in a symbiotic manner. Justice institutions and actors need to respond to people's needs and people themselves need to feel able to claim their rights. People must be able to identify injustice and seek redress and believe that an alternative to current practice is possible. In order to change the way people engage with the justice system and actors, alternatives to the current norms have to be explored.

MyJustice believes that one way to increase people's engagement in justice institutions, to demand more fair and equal processes, is to use different media to promote a broad-based conversation on justice – a discussion of both the problems as well as solutions. Towards this end it has supported public engagement efforts across multiple platforms including television (public service advertisements, drama series, chat shows), newspapers and billboards (static advertisements and opinion articles), community media efforts (theatre and games) as well as unique events such as a rock concert 'We rock for justice' as well as mall and park events.

MyJustice is now looking to take its engagement efforts to alternative media and cultural platforms. Artists – both traditional and new media/conceptual - working across performance or visual art, are often at the centre of questioning norms and suggesting alternatives. MyJustice is looking for a Myanmar-based curator to conceptualise a call and coordinate a selected group of Myanmar artists to produce a series of artistic outputs that explore contours of justice in Myanmar today.

7.2 The purpose of this assignment

- To conceptualise a call and select 5-7 Myanmar artists to explore concepts of justice and how it interacts with identity in all its forms (ethnicity, race, gender, religion) and prevailing social norms that result in a series of artistic outputs.

MyJustice hopes to work with emerging and established artists in Myanmar keen to explore justice and what shapes it in Myanmar. The selected curator will be expected to work closely with the MyJustice Strategic Engagement Adviser to shape the key principles that the artwork should explore and then be able to communicate that effectively to a range of Myanmar artists who can be invited to submit proposals. The curator will be expected to shortlist five to seven artists that come back with promising ideas and work closely with them. The resulting commissions can be either an extension of existing pieces of art or can be new pieces. It is upto the individual artists how they choose to interpret justice and its intersections with identity and further the impact on Myanmar today. This can draw on their personal experience or their observations of society around them. The resulting art will be showcased as part of an end-programme event to be held in early November 2019.

7.3 Deliverables

The selected supplier will be responsible for the following deliverables.

- A call for artists to explore intersections between justice and identity in Myanmar, including maybe an initial workshop with a range of artists.
- Come up with a criteria for selection and provide a list of selected artists with a description of their prior work.
- A further orientation workshop with 5-7 Myanmar artists during the inception phase of the project.
- A brief working description of each art output as well as a timeline for the completion of the projects at the end of the inception phase. These can be the first iteration of the description of the art in consultation with the artists.
- Ensuring that the artwork by each selected artist is ready for show-casing at the end of programme event to be held in early November. The art should be explained in Myanmar and English in the artists own words.
- Collaborating with the MyJustice communications supplier to mount the artistic outputs as part of an exhibition about the programme (location to be determined) in early November. Ensure artists are able to attend the opening of the exhibition.

7.5 Requirements

The supplier should be able to demonstrate the following:

1. Knowledge of the Myanmar contemporary art landscape and experience in curating art events that bring together a range of performance and conceptual artists.
2. Understanding of current issues in Myanmar and ability to frame a call based on the likely political and social sensitivities. Demonstrable experience in navigating complex terrain of working on art in an environment where certain issues still invite censure and punitive action.
3. Ability to work with the artists in translating the ideas into artistic outputs.
4. Ability to stick to the tight timeline.
5. A university degree in the social sciences, theory of art or critical thinking (preferred).
6. Good written and spoken English.

14 Evaluation Criteria

14.1 You will have your tender response evaluated as set out below:

Stage 1: Tender responses will be checked to ensure that they have been completed correctly and all necessary information has been provided. Tenders responses correctly completed with all relevant information being provided will proceed to Stage 2. Any tender responses not correctly completed in accordance with the requirements of this RFP and/or containing omissions may be rejected at this point.

Where a tender response is rejected at this point it will automatically be disqualified and will not be further evaluated.

Stage 2: The completed Qualification Questionnaire (if used) will then be reviewed to confirm that the potential supplier meets all of the qualification criteria set out in the questionnaire. Potential suppliers that meet the qualification criteria will proceed to Stage 3. Potential suppliers that do not meet the qualification criteria set out in the Qualification Questionnaire (if used) may be excluded from the Procurement Process at this point. Where a potential supplier is excluded at this point, its tender response will be rejected in full and not evaluated further and the supplier will automatically be disqualified from this Procurement Process.

Stage 3: If a bidder succeeds in passing Stages 1 and 2 of the evaluation, then it will have its detailed tender response to the British Council's requirements evaluated in accordance with the evaluation methodology set out below. Information provided as part of Qualification Questionnaire (if used) responses may also be verified as part of this stage.

14.2 Award Criteria – Responses from potential suppliers will be assessed to determine the most economically advantages tender using the following criteria and weightings and will be assessed entirely on your response submitted:

Criteria	Weighting
Quality	40%
Methodology and Approach	30%
Commercial	30%

14.3 Scoring Model – Tender responses will be subject to an initial review at the start of Stage 3 of the evaluation process. Any tender responses not meeting mandatory requirements or constraints (if any) will be rejected in full at this point and will not be assessed or scored further. Tender responses not so rejected will be scored by an evaluation panel appointed by the British Council for all criteria other than Commercial using the following scoring model:

Points	Interpretation
10	Excellent – Overall the response demonstrates that the bidder meets all areas of the requirement and provides all of the areas evidence requested in the level of detail requested. This, therefore, is a detailed excellent response that meets all aspects of the requirement leaving no ambiguity as to whether the bidder can meet the requirement.

7	Good – Overall the response demonstrates that the bidder meets all areas of the requirement and provides all of the areas of evidence requested, but contains some trivial omissions in relation to the level of detail requested in terms of either the response or the evidence. This, therefore, is a good response that meets all aspects of the requirement with only a trivial level ambiguity due the bidders failure to provide all information at the level of detail requested.
5	Adequate – Overall the response demonstrates that the bidder meets all areas of the requirement, but not all of the areas of evidence requested have been provided. This, therefore, is an adequate response, but with some limited ambiguity as to whether the bidder can meet the requirement due to the bidder’s failure to provide all of the evidence requested.
3	Poor – The response does not demonstrate that the bidder meets the requirement in one or more areas. This, therefore, is a poor response with significant ambiguity as to whether the bidder can meet the requirement due to the failure by the bidder to show that it meets one or more areas of the requirement.
0	Unacceptable – The response is non-compliant with the requirements of the RFP and/or no response has been provided.

14.4 Commercial Evaluation – Your “Overall Price” (as calculated in accordance with requirements of Annex [3] (Pricing Approach) for the goods and/or services will be evaluated by the evaluation panel for the purposes of the commercial evaluation. Prices must not be subject to any pricing assumptions, qualifications or indexation not provided for explicitly by the British Council as part of the pricing approach. In the event that any prices are expressed as being subject to any pricing assumptions, qualifications or indexation not provided for by the British Council as part of the pricing approach, the British Council may reject the full tender response at this point. The British Council may also reject any tender response where the Overall Price for the goods and/or services is considered by the British Council to be abnormally low following the relevant processes set out under the EU procurement rules. A maximum offer score of 10 will be awarded to the tender response offering the lowest “Overall Price”. Other tender responses will be awarded a mark by application of the following formula: (Lowest Overall Price/Overall Price being evaluated) x 10 (rounded to two decimal places) = commercial score.

14.5 Moderation and application of weightings – The evaluation panel appointed for this procurement will meet to agree and moderate scores for each award criteria. Final scores in terms of a percentage of the overall tender score will be obtained by applying the relevant weighting factors set out as part of the award criteria table above. The percentage scores for each award criteria will be amalgamated to give a percentage score out of 100.

14.6 The winning tender response – The winning tender response shall be the tender response scoring the highest percentage score out of 100 when applying the above evaluation methodology, which is also supported by any required verification evidence (to include, without limitation, any updated information or references relating to any Qualification Question responses) obtained by the Authority relating to any self-certification or other requirements referred to in the Qualification Questionnaire (if used). If any verification evidence requested from a supplier, or a relevant third party as may be referred to by the supplier in the Qualification Questionnaire (if used) as a party prepared to provide such information, is not provided in accordance with any timescales specified by the British Council and/or any evidence reviewed by the British Council (whose decision shall be final) does not demonstrate compliance with any such requirement, the British Council may reject that tender response in full and disqualify the potential winning supplier from the Procurement Process at that point.
